Quick Start Guide

Quick Start Guide

Read these 2 pages before anything else. They'll save you hours.

Welcome from AP Digital

Welcome to The $10K AI Employee. You just hired a 50-person team for the price of a pizza. Inside you'll find 50 ready-to-use AI agents that take the guesswork out of ChatGPT, Claude, and Gemini. Each agent is a copy-paste prompt that does the work of a marketing specialist, a copywriter, a sales coach, a researcher, or a support rep - on demand, 24/7, while you sleep. You don't need to be technical. You don't need to be a prompt expert. You just need to copy, paste, and fill in the blanks. This product was built by AP Digital to help everyday business owners, freelancers, and creators get powerful results from AI without the steep learning curve.

What is an AI Prompt?

An AI prompt is a set of instructions you give to an AI tool. The better your prompt, the better the answer. Think of it like hiring a smart assistant. If you tell them 'write something', you'll get something generic. If you tell them who the reader is, what the goal is, and what style to use, you'll get gold. Every prompt in this book is written to give you gold, fast.

How to Use This Book

Each prompt has four parts: what it does, when to use it, the copy-paste prompt, and a simple example. To use a prompt: Step 1: Open any AI tool (ChatGPT, Claude, Gemini, Copilot). Step 2: Copy the 'Copy-Paste Prompt' section. Step 3: Replace the parts in [BRACKETS] with your real details. Step 4: Paste the full prompt into the AI and press Enter. Step 5: Read the output. If it is not perfect, ask the AI to rewrite or shorten it.

How to Customize a Prompt

Every prompt has parts in [BRACKETS]. These are placeholders. Swap them with your own business, audience, product, or goal. The more specific you are, the better the output. For example, 'small business owners' is okay. 'Solo female coaches who sell $2,000 programs' is much better.

How to Get Better AI Answers

Three simple rules: (1) Give the AI a role. Every prompt in this book starts with 'Act as ...'. This tells the AI the mindset to use. (2) Give it context. Who is the audience? What is the goal? What is the tone? (3) Ask for a specific format. For example: 'Give me 5 ideas in a numbered list.' If you don't like the first answer, simply reply with: 'Make it shorter.' 'Make it more casual.' 'Give me 5 more options.' AI loves feedback. Keep asking.

What's Inside

The Core 50 Prompt Toolkit

The Core 50 Prompt Toolkit

Each prompt follows the same simple format: What it does, When to use it, the Copy-Paste Prompt, and an Example. Replace [BRACKETED] parts with your real details, paste into any AI tool, and watch the magic happen.

Marketing Agents

MARKETING

1. Social Media Strategist

What this does: Builds a full social media plan for your brand.

When to use it: When you need a content direction for the next 30 days.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as my social media strategist. My business is [DESCRIBE YOUR BUSINESS]. My target audience is [WHO YOU SERVE]. My main goal is [GOAL: sales, followers, awareness]. Create a 30-day social media plan for [PLATFORMS]. For each week give me: (1) a theme, (2) 3 post ideas with hooks, (3) one content pillar, (4) a simple call-to-action. Keep the plan simple and easy to execute by one person.

Example: A coffee shop owner asks for a 30-day Instagram plan to grow local followers.

MARKETING

2. Content Creator

What this does: Writes original content on any topic.

When to use it: When you need blog, video or social content fast.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as an expert content creator. Write a [TYPE: blog post / video script / caption] about [TOPIC]. Audience: [WHO YOU SERVE]. Tone: [FRIENDLY / EXPERT / FUNNY]. Length: [SHORT / MEDIUM / LONG]. Include a strong hook, 3-5 key points, examples the reader can relate to, and a clear call-to-action at the end. Avoid buzzwords. Write like a human talking to a friend.

Example: Ask for a LinkedIn post on 'mistakes new freelancers make'.

MARKETING

3. SEO Specialist

What this does: Helps your content rank on Google.

When to use it: When you want more traffic from search engines.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as my SEO specialist. My website is about [TOPIC/NICHE]. My target keyword is [KEYWORD]. Do the following: (1) Give me 10 related long-tail keywords people actually search. (2) Write a strong SEO title (under 60 characters). (3) Write a meta description (under 160 characters). (4) Outline an article with H2 and H3 headings that covers the topic fully. (5) Suggest 3 internal links I should add.

Example: A yoga coach targets 'yoga for beginners at home'.

MARKETING

4. Growth Hacker

What this does: Finds quick ways to grow your audience or revenue.

When to use it: When you need low-cost growth ideas this week.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a growth hacker. My business is [DESCRIBE BUSINESS]. My budget is [BUDGET]. My biggest challenge is [CHALLENGE]. Give me 10 creative, low-cost growth experiments I can run in 7 days. For each idea include: the action, the expected result, the time needed, and the first 3 steps to start. Rank them from easiest to hardest.

Example: A Shopify store needs more traffic without running ads.

MARKETING

5. LinkedIn Content Creator

What this does: Writes LinkedIn posts that get engagement.

When to use it: When you want to build authority on LinkedIn.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a LinkedIn content expert. Write a LinkedIn post about [TOPIC] for [JOB ROLE/INDUSTRY]. Use this structure: (1) a scroll-stopping first line, (2) a story or insight, (3) 3 short lessons or takeaways, (4) a simple question at the end to invite comments. Keep lines short. Use one idea per line. No hashtags until the last line. Write it in a clear, confident, human tone.

Example: A consultant writes about a client mistake that cost them $50K.

MARKETING

6. Instagram Content Curator

What this does: Plans Instagram posts, reels and captions.

When to use it: When you need a week of Instagram ideas.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as an Instagram content curator. My niche is [NICHE]. My audience wants [DESIRES/OUTCOMES]. Give me 7 days of Instagram content. For each day include: (1) post type (reel, carousel, single image), (2) caption idea under 150 words, (3) a hook for the first line, (4) 10 relevant hashtags, (5) a clear call-to-action. Mix educational, entertaining and inspiring posts.

Example: A fitness coach plans a week of reels for busy moms.

MARKETING

7. Twitter/X Engager

What this does: Writes tweets and threads that go viral.

When to use it: When you want to grow on Twitter/X.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a Twitter/X growth writer. My niche is [NICHE]. Write me: (1) 5 single tweets that stop the scroll, (2) 1 long thread (8 tweets) with a strong hook, clear lessons, and a final CTA to follow, (3) 3 reply-ready comments I can post on big accounts in my niche. Keep tweets under 280 characters. Short sentences. No fluff.

Example: A SaaS founder wants threads about startup lessons.

MARKETING

8. TikTok Strategist

What this does: Plans short video ideas that get views.

When to use it: When you want more reach on TikTok/Reels/Shorts.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a short-video strategist. My niche is [NICHE]. My audience cares about [PAIN POINTS/INTERESTS]. Give me 10 short-video ideas (under 60 seconds each). For each video include: hook (first 3 seconds), main script (spoken, under 150 words), on-screen text suggestions, and a CTA at the end. Mix tutorials, myths, stories, and quick tips.

Example: A real estate agent shares first-time buyer tips.

MARKETING

9. Podcast Strategist

What this does: Plans podcast episodes and show growth.

When to use it: When you want a clear podcast roadmap.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as my podcast strategist. My podcast is about [TOPIC]. My audience is [AUDIENCE]. Help me with: (1) 10 episode ideas with strong titles, (2) a 5-question interview template, (3) a one-page show outline I can reuse for every episode, (4) 3 ways to repurpose each episode for social media.

Example: A career coach launches a show on changing jobs.

MARKETING

10. Reddit Community Builder

What this does: Helps you grow on Reddit without looking spammy.

When to use it: When you want to use Reddit to reach real customers.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a Reddit community expert. My business is [BUSINESS]. Help me with: (1) 5 subreddits where my target customers hang out, (2) 3 post ideas that add value (not promo), (3) 5 comment templates that show I understand the community, (4) rules I must follow so I don't get banned.

Example: A budgeting app owner engages r/personalfinance users.

Sales Agents

SALES

11. Sales Coach

What this does: Reviews your sales approach and gives feedback.

When to use it: When you want to improve your pitch or call.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as my sales coach. I sell [PRODUCT/SERVICE] to [CUSTOMER TYPE]. Here is my current pitch: [PASTE YOUR PITCH]. Give me: (1) 3 things I am doing right, (2) 5 things I can improve, (3) 3 power phrases I should add, (4) a rewritten pitch that is clearer, shorter, and more persuasive.

Example: A web designer refines her 60-second intro pitch.

SALES

12. Discovery Call Coach

What this does: Writes strong discovery call questions.

When to use it: Before a sales call with a new lead.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a discovery call coach. I sell [PRODUCT/SERVICE]. My ideal client is [ICP DETAILS]. Give me: (1) 15 discovery questions grouped by category (situation, pain, impact, budget, timeline), (2) 5 follow-up questions that dig deeper, (3) 3 red flags that tell me to walk away, (4) a closing line that leads to the next step.

Example: An agency preps for a call with a new e-commerce brand.

SALES

13. Outbound Cold Email Writer

What this does: Writes cold emails that get replies.

When to use it: When you need outbound leads.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a cold email expert. I sell [PRODUCT]. My target customer is [ICP]. Write 3 cold email variations. Each email must be under 120 words and include: (1) a personalized opener, (2) one problem the reader cares about, (3) a short proof point, (4) a single simple ask (15-minute call). Use short sentences. No buzzwords. No 'hope this finds you well'.

Example: A bookkeeper pitches to small online store owners.

SALES

14. Deal Strategist

What this does: Helps you close tough or stuck deals.

When to use it: When a deal has gone quiet or needs a push.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as my deal strategist. Here are the deal details: Product sold: [PRODUCT]. Buyer: [NAME/ROLE]. Deal size: [$AMOUNT]. Current stage: [STAGE]. Last conversation: [SUMMARY]. Give me: (1) 3 likely reasons the deal is stuck, (2) 3 messages I can send to reopen it, (3) 3 ways to add urgency without being pushy, (4) my best next move this week.

Example: A SaaS seller revives a deal that went silent 10 days ago.

SALES

15. Sales Pipeline Analyst

What this does: Reviews your pipeline and shows what to focus on.

When to use it: Weekly, to prioritize deals.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as my pipeline analyst. Here is my current pipeline: [LIST OF DEALS WITH NAME, STAGE, AMOUNT, DAYS IN STAGE, NEXT STEP]. Give me: (1) the top 3 deals I should focus on this week, (2) the 3 deals I should close out or disqualify, (3) risk flags for deals stuck too long, (4) a simple daily plan to move the top 3 forward.

Example: A freelancer with 12 leads gets a clear weekly plan.

SALES

16. Proposal Writer

What this does: Writes clear, persuasive client proposals.

When to use it: After a discovery call, before the client decides.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a proposal writer. Write a proposal for [CLIENT NAME] for [SERVICE/PROJECT]. Their main goal is [GOAL]. Their biggest worry is [WORRY]. Include: (1) a short summary in their own words, (2) clear outcomes they will get, (3) scope with 3 phases, (4) timeline, (5) investment with 2 pricing options, (6) next steps. Keep it under 2 pages. Use plain language.

Example: A designer writes a proposal for a $4,000 brand package.

SALES

17. Account Strategist

What this does: Helps you expand revenue from an existing client.

When to use it: When you want to upsell or cross-sell.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as my account strategist. My existing client is [CLIENT]. We currently provide [CURRENT SERVICE]. Give me: (1) 5 new services or upgrades I could offer them, (2) the business outcome each service would unlock, (3) a warm email that opens the conversation, (4) a simple meeting agenda to discuss expansion.

Example: An ad agency finds new ways to serve a 6-month client.

SALES

18. Objection Handler

What this does: Prepares strong answers to sales objections.

When to use it: Before every sales call or meeting.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as my objection handling coach. I sell [PRODUCT]. The most common objections I hear are: [LIST THE OBJECTIONS]. For each objection give me: (1) the real reason behind it, (2) a short, confident reply under 60 words, (3) one question I can ask to understand them better, (4) a proof point I can use to support my answer.

Example: 'It's too expensive' is handled clearly and calmly.

Content Creation Agents

CONTENT CREATION

19. Blog Post Writer

What this does: Writes full blog articles on any topic.

When to use it: When you need SEO-friendly blog content.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as an expert blog writer. Write a [LENGTH] blog post titled '[TITLE]'. Audience: [AUDIENCE]. Primary keyword: [KEYWORD]. Structure: (1) hook intro that names the problem, (2) 5-7 H2 sections with clear lessons, (3) examples or simple steps under each section, (4) a short summary, (5) a CTA at the end. Write in plain English. Short paragraphs.

Example: 'How to price your freelance services' for new freelancers.

CONTENT CREATION

20. Email Copywriter

What this does: Writes emails that get opened and clicked.

When to use it: For newsletters, promos, or nurture sequences.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a direct response email copywriter. Write an email to [AUDIENCE] about [OFFER/TOPIC]. Goal: [SALE / CLICK / REPLY]. Include: (1) 5 subject line options under 50 characters, (2) a preview line under 90 characters, (3) an email body under 250 words with one clear CTA, (4) a PS line that repeats the main benefit. Write casually, like a friend.

Example: A course creator emails her list about a flash sale.

CONTENT CREATION

21. Video Script Writer

What this does: Writes scripts for videos, reels and YouTube.

When to use it: When you need a ready-to-film script.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a video script writer. Write a [LENGTH] script for [PLATFORM] on the topic: [TOPIC]. Audience: [AUDIENCE]. Structure: (1) hook in first 3 seconds, (2) the problem I solve, (3) 3 quick points with examples, (4) a simple CTA. Write it in spoken language, not essay language. Mark [PAUSE] and [B-ROLL] cues.

Example: A 45-second Instagram reel on 'why nobody replies to your DMs'.

CONTENT CREATION

22. Book Co-Author

What this does: Helps you plan and write a non-fiction book.

When to use it: When you want to start or finish a book.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

When to use it: Every day, for any customer message.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a customer support writer. A customer sent this message: [PASTE MESSAGE]. Write a reply that is: (1) warm and human, (2) direct, (3) offers a clear next step or solution, (4) under 120 words. End with a short line that invites them to reply if they need more help.

Example: Replying to a 'I want a refund' email calmly.

CUSTOMER
COMMUNICATION

46. Complaint Resolver

What this does: Handles angry customers with grace.

When to use it: When a customer is upset.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a complaint handling expert. A customer is upset about [ISSUE]. Here is their message: [PASTE MESSAGE]. Write a reply that: (1) acknowledges their feelings, (2) takes responsibility without excuses, (3) explains what happened, (4) offers a fair fix or next step, (5) ends with a promise of improvement. Keep the tone calm and professional.

Example: Handling a delayed order complaint on Etsy.

CUSTOMER
COMMUNICATION

47. FAQ Builder

What this does: Creates clear FAQs for your website or funnel.

When to use it: Before any launch or new product page.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as an FAQ writer. My offer is [PRODUCT/SERVICE]. My audience is [AUDIENCE]. Build 10 FAQs. For each include: (1) the question in the customer's own words, (2) a short, honest answer under 60 words, (3) any link or action they should take. Focus on questions that reduce buying friction.

Example: FAQs for a $499 course on Instagram growth.

CUSTOMER
COMMUNICATION

48. Client Intake Specialist

What this does: Helps you qualify and onboard new clients smoothly.

When to use it: When a new client signs up.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as my client intake specialist. My service is [SERVICE]. Build: (1) a 10-question intake form, (2) a welcome email that sets expectations, (3) a simple kickoff call agenda (30 minutes), (4) a checklist of materials I need from the client before starting.

Example: A designer onboards a new branding client.

CUSTOMER
COMMUNICATION

49. Testimonial Collector

What this does: Gets amazing testimonials from happy clients.

When to use it: After a successful project or purchase.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a testimonial collection expert. I want testimonials from happy customers of [PRODUCT/SERVICE]. Write: (1) a short, friendly request email, (2) 5 simple questions that lead to powerful testimonials, (3) a follow-up message if they don't reply in 5 days, (4) a way to ask permission to use it on social media.

Example: A photographer asks clients for testimonials after delivery.

CUSTOMER
COMMUNICATION

50. Follow-Up Email Writer

What this does: Writes follow-ups that don't feel annoying.

When to use it: When someone ghosted a quote, lead, or reply.

Copy-Paste Prompt:

Act as a follow-up email expert. I emailed [CONTEXT] and they didn't reply. Write 3 follow-up emails, 3-5 days apart. Each must be: (1) under 80 words, (2) polite but confident, (3) add new value or a new angle each time, (4) end with one simple yes/no question. No guilt-tripping. No 'just checking in'.

Example: Following up after sending a proposal a client ignored.

Final Usage Tips

Final Usage Tips

10 small habits that turn AI from a toy into a business asset.

Tip 1: Always Give the AI a Role

Start every prompt with 'Act as a [ROLE].' This sets the mindset. A 'copywriter' will write very differently from a 'data analyst'. If the answer is weak, switch the role and try again.

Tip 2: Be Specific, Not General

Vague prompts get vague answers. Instead of 'write a post', say: 'write a 120-word LinkedIn post for freelance designers who struggle to get clients, with a bold hook and a question at the end.' The more details, the better the output.

Tip 3: Ask for a Format

Ask for the output in a format you actually want: a list, a table, a script, a 3-step plan, a 5-slide outline. AI follows format instructions very well.

Tip 4: Iterate Fast

Don't stop at the first answer. Reply with: 'Make it shorter.' 'Make it bolder.' 'Give me 5 more.' 'Simplify it.' Each reply gets you closer to the final version.

Tip 5: Feed the AI Real Examples

If you want output in your voice, paste 2-3 examples of your past work and ask the AI to 'match this tone.' This is the single fastest way to sound more like you.

Tip 6: Save Your Best Prompts

When you find a prompt that works great, save it. Keep a simple Google Doc or Notion page called 'My AI Prompts'. In 30 days you will have your own personal toolkit.

Tip 7: Combine Prompts

You can chain prompts. Use one prompt to create a persona. Then use another prompt to write content for that persona. Then use another to write a CTA. Stacking prompts = better results.

Tip 8: Review Before You Post

AI is a helper, not a replacement. Always read the output. Check facts, numbers, and claims. Remove anything that doesn't sound like you. Add your voice, your story, your examples.

Tip 9: Pick One Prompt a Week

Don't try to use all 50 prompts at once. Pick one. Use it every day for a week. Master it. Then move to the next. That is how you build a real AI workflow.

Tip 10: Have Fun

AI is not magic, but it is close. Play with it. Try weird prompts. Break things. The more you experiment, the more valuable it becomes. You'll save hours every week and create work you are proud of.

You're ready.

Pick one prompt today. Use it. See what happens. Then come back tomorrow and pick another. In 30 days you will have done what most people never do: you will have built a real AI workflow.

Thank you for investing in yourself.

If this toolkit helped you, share it with one person who would love it too.
